But now, after the lapse of a few days, it is said that a step far it advance of that measure has been taken, and that the grove wil be thrown down to the South and the Democrats of the North as well. If so, there can be no longer any doubt as to the nature of the figut, or as to the means to be used in it, but it or as to the means to be used in it, but it is 'cussin' is just beautiful and make me feet his could be a present the sent and a cursing of dags and a cursing of enemies all over the States, the like of which has never been seen since the time of the Crusades—let us say in a general fashion. The North could not now in honor submit to amsignation with all the taint of base metal on her part of the compound. The continent of America could not hold northern men in the face of defeat, insult, and contempt from the men of the South. As well might the compade men of the South. As well might the comrade of ancient Pistol hope to live on good condiof ancient Pistol hope to live on good conditions with his truculent friends, occause he had submitted quietly to the pulling of his nose and the kicking of his person as a basis of smity and equality. Philosophic statesmen, like Mr. Sumner, may not be affected by such considerations. They look, like him, to great principles. Mere American politicians, caucusmongers, wire-pullers, like Mr. Blair, do not appreciate any result which does not.

On Thursday morning early the Prince stariproduce immediate effect upon the votes of the ed with M. Men who have studied patiently and long the whole of the political mechanism of the Union are so much enaurored of the fineness of the machinery and the beautiful play of its parts that, like Mr. Seward, they think if all the bits are put tegether, a fittle off applied, and the steam got wall up, with a good whistle to clear the way against England or Spain, or some Euremean power, it is sure to preserve its copsispean power, it is sure to preserve its consis- the battle-field as far as the horrible odor would meantime, troops are pouring into the neighborhood of the capital. Although Gen. Scott is perfectly tranquil, and is quite satisfied the Confederates can make no aggressive movement without signal chastisement and defeat, Gen. McClelian is most uneasy and apprehensive of danger, and is argent in demanding more men. He prefers his demand on all who come near him, and some Senator, one at least, on his own responsibility, and without any communication with the government, he telegraphed to the Governor of his State to need the course of the state of the two armies, and that he returned late on Priday exenting, pretty well eatisfied that there was not much to choose between the two armies, but that the Federalists were on the whole the for the two, and that he would take them for choice. Gen. Beaurenard did not make a very good impression on the Prince, it is said, although his Frence is natural to him as a New Orleans Delta cap one would not make a very good impression on the Prince, it is said, although his Frence is natural to him as a New Orleans crooke. It is said by the people who can see a long way into mile stones, that the Prince will certainly propose an arbitration, and that his visit is made with the object of securing for France the position which would certainly be given to the power that might communication with the government, he telegraphed to the Governor of his State to send at once every regiment he could muster to Washington. Acting on his own account, and without Gen. Scott's knowledge, I apprehend, Gen. McClellan has also from time to lime sent regiments to points which he conceived to be menneed or most in need of reinforcements.

He is very short in a proper complement of cavalry and field artillery. His traces are an raw as can be—the officers not a whit better as yet than the Bull's Run officers. In fact, his army is not a fighting machine which can be hundled as a whole, nor do I think the Confederates are much better in any way, except minus one in the present imperial succession, which would not be possible to find any sound reasons to shiect to the expedition.
Now, it strikes an outsider that if the United States government was angry with Great Britain for placing the Confederate States army on the footing of helligerents, and if it has always maintained that the troops of the confederate S ares army, so-called, are rebels, the visit of the beir to the throne of France, federates are much better in any way, except in cavairy. The material of some of the northern regiments cannot be excelled. Splendid men, young, fall, robust, intelligent, and accustomed to adventure; if the workmen knew their business, there is plenty of stuff to make a good srmy in their bands.

My estimate of Mr. Jefferson Davie' forces in cavairy and guns was not far wrong, but by this time be has probably received reinforcements to his horse power and has certainly increased his arrillery. But, after all, what will another battle effect? Even if the result of Manassan be reversed there is no little likely—

The Bonds of the Confederate States as Good as Gold ! VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

COME AND SEE! THE undersigned offers for sale his PLAN-TATION stunted on Barrot Barriconnew, in Ashley county, Arkansas, containing about 1600 acres of Land, 500 of which are in a flac 1800 acres of Land; 800 of which are in a fine state of cultivation, and 800 acres deadened. There is upon the prove a contextable Dewilling and a good Gie, with mill attached; also, new frame Negro quarters, excellent disters water, and many other conveniences. This place is entirely free from all overflow, according to steambouts; while fire shipping season, and only 17 miles from the Naciscaph river. As a Gotton plantation it challenges comparison with any other plans in the Southwest, as the growing crops will abundantly testify. In connection with the above, I offer my handsomely improve: PAMILY RESIDENCE, two miles southeast of Monticello. Drew country which, for beauty of situation, excellence of health, coldness and purity of water, is not surpassed west of the Missistippi. For high boned, moral and religious sentiment, the citizens of Monticello and vicinity stand unrivated.

I propose to sell the above described property at a fair price for Confederate States Scode, or Negro property at a fair valuation, or gold and allver. My terms are one-third cash, balance in one and two perrs, I think I offer the most destrable property I know of in the State for calc, and I only do it to exame my business demands my presence in South Louisians.

For further particulars address Win. J. Montgomery, at Leksanon, Tennessee, or the subscriber at Monticello, Drew county, Arkanass.
